Cross-cutting social policy & practice

The Idox Information Service*

Holds over 200,000 summarized research resources, increasing by 10,000 abstracts per month, across 30 local authority public policy areas including planning, regeneration, social policy and economic development.

Campbell Collaboration

A comprehensive website for lists of systematic reviews, they cover education, crime and justice, social welfare and international development. Based in Oslo, they are an international network of volunteers.

EPPI-Centre (The Evidence for Policy and Practice Information and Co-ordinating Centre) knowledge library of systematic reviews on social policy and health. The large number of systematic reviews conducted by and supported by the EPPI-Centre have contributed to a broad knowledge base.

Early Intervention Guidebook

An interactive online resource for those who wish to find out more about how to commission and deliver effective early intervention. It continually expands as they gain more information about what works for children and commissioning children’s services. A key feature of the Guidebook is the Programmes Library that contains the details of 50 programmes that have been successfully implemented in the UK.

NHS Evidence

Index of evidence-based information from ‘trustworthy and accredited’ sources from across health and social care.

SCVO (Scottish Council for Voluntary Organisations) Evidence Library Registration is required to login, but it is free. Funded by the Scottish Government, The Evidence Library is interactive because it also facilitates comment and discussion, the exchanging of ideas and the sharing of knowledge.

Social Policy and Practice*

A one-stop-shop for research, analysis and discussion of health and social policy, the database holds over 350,000 abstracts on social policy, 30% of content is grey literature. The database is made up from selected content from the major providers: Idox Information Service; Social Care Institute for Excellence; National Children’s Bureau; and the Centre for Policy on Ageing. (NSPCC data is currently also being added) this is run through Ovid Technologies on a commercial basis.

Education, children and young people

Investing in Children

A one-stop-shop for information for over 100 interventions relating to children’s services, bringing together information about what works and cost-benefit analysis.

Best Evidence Encyclopedia UK

Focused on education, the website gives information about the strength of evidence supporting a variety of programmes available for pupils of both primary and secondary school-age. The site provides summaries of scientific reviews produced by various authors and organizations, as well as links to the full texts of each review.

ChildData*

From the National Children’s Bureau charity, ChildData is the only bibliographic database covering all aspects of research and practice in young people’s social care. It is now only available through Social Policy and Practice. Content includes reports, research and resources on early childhood; education and learning; health and wellbeing; involving young people; play; sector improvement; SEN and disability; and vulnerable children.

NSPCC Research and Resources

A free resource for those working in the childcare and protection sector, it includes all forms of case reviews and literature and current awareness bulletins. They provide research and statistics on child abuse; working with children and families; policy and guidance on child protection; resources; case reviews and learning materials.

Teaching and Learning Toolkit

A summary of research relevant to teaching kids aged 5 to 16 years. The Sutton Trust and Education Endowment Foundation Teaching have created this Toolkit to provide guidance for teachers and schools on how to use their resources to improve the attainment of disadvantaged pupils. The Toolkit currently covers 34 topics, each summarised in terms of their average impact on attainment, the strength of the evidence supporting them and their cost. For those working in Early Years, there is also another dedicated toolkit.

Aging

Ageinfo

The only UK database covering all aspects of ageing and older age, including research and practice in the social and health issues of older age. A bibliographic database of over 55,000 books, articles and reports from the specialist collection held by the Centre for Policy on Ageing. Please note that the database does not give access directly the publication – it only finds titles.

Social care

Social Care online

An electronic library delivered by the Social Care Institute for Excellence, with over 150,000 abstracts covering all aspects of care, social welfare and social policy, currently free to access through a grant from the Department of Health. It covers information of people with social care needs; those receiving care services; key issues such as integrated services, safeguarding or legislation; Government policy and social work and the social care workforce.

Crime

Crime Reduction toolkit

Using over 300 systematic reviews, and covering 60 different crime reduction interventions, the toolkit provides easy access to the crime reduction evidence base. Users can weigh up evidence on the impact, cost and implementation of different interventions and use this to help shape their crime reduction efforts.

Note also the 2011 Scottish Government summaries of evidence on what works in Stopping people from reoffending, followed a few years later by the 2013 UK Government’s summary of evidence on the same topic.
